STRIKE TIES UP TRACTION SERVICE

Thousands of Chicago Workers Walk to Their Tasks In the Rain

OFFICER CUT BY GLASS

State Board of Arbitration, City Council and Legislature Discuss Means of Ending Strike

MAYOR TO NAME COMMITTEE

CHICAGO, June 14.—Traction service, both elevated and service was completely tied up today by a strike of motormen and conductors. More than a million workers scrambled to their tasks good naturedly in the rain of the morning, on foot, by automobile, by improved bus and by steam roads. Tonight they returned home by the same process, many of them in a much less pleasant frame of ind, the keen edge of novelty having worn fro the situation. Only one act of violence was reported. A policeman on one of the ten elevated trains that ran was cut by glass which flew when a strike sympathizer threw a brick from an adjoining fire escape.

The state board of arbitration, the city council and the state legislature all discussed means of ending the strike.

Council Passes Ordinance.

The city council passed an ordinance restricting the companies in employing conductor and motormen to those who have had experience on the Chicago lines.

An ordinance was adopted instructing Mayor Thompson to appoint a council committee of five of which he shall be the head, which shall work toward the settlement of te strike.

All manner of veicles was pressed into service, even roller skates, but tens of thousands walked to their places of employment.

Streets Black With People.

The great thoroughfares through poorer districts such as Blue Island avenue, Archer avenue, Milwaukee avenue and Clark street, in traversing which the pedestrian may hear spoken most of the languages of the world, were black with people trudging to work. They overflowed from the sidewalks onto the pavement. The streets had the appearance, except for the general good humor with which the situation was accepted, of the avenues of some city in the war zone from which the population was flying.

The quiet of the day was not accepted by the police authorities as assuring continued tranquility. Chief of Police Healy said he would ask authority to enroll 1,000 extra policemen to be available in the event of disorder when the companies make a real effort to operate.

A drizzling rain most of the day added to the discomfort of the city. Owners of automobiles, driving to or from the city, submitted generally to the amiable brigandage of those seeking rides. Few machines traveled with empty seats.

Detective Is Injured.

The state board of arbitration undertook a solution of the strike by addressing letters to both sides to the dispute, asking either party to apply for arbitration through its organization. Detective Erlandson, one of the police guards who rode on a South Side Elevated train, reported the first injujry. A wooden block was hurled from a fire escape of a building into a train and Erlandson was cut by flying glass. A serch was made, but the assailant was not found.

A single coach containing a number of policemen made a trip on the Lake street elevated to the west side in the afternoon, but made no stops. Officials of the elevated systems denied they had imported strike-breakers, but said they had a sufficient number of old employes on hand to take the cars out when they wanted to resume service.

Steam Roads Do Big Business.

The Illinois Central railroad, which serves one section of the south side with a suburban service and handles an average of 40,000 persons daily, reported they had carried 280,000 passengers during the day. The road will be able to carry more than double this number, so far as rolling stock is concerned, it was announced.

The difficulty today was in selling tickets and in handling the crowd at the turnstiles. Emergency turnstiles were built today so that a larger number could be carried tomorrow. At the union station, from which the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy roads run through the west side and at the nearby Chicago & Northwestern station, where lines run norta and west, street traffic was tied up by the rush of workers who sought transportation facilities. A large force of extra police was needed to handle the crowd and a number of persons were reported injured in the crush.

REFUSES TO REVIEW CASH REGISTER CASE

SUPREME COURT ACTION SPELLS ANOTHER DEFEAT FOR GOVERNMENT

Chief Justice White Announces Decision—No Reasons are Assigned—Make No Announcement of Government's Purpose.

Washington, June 14.—Refusal of the supreme court today to review the action of the sixth circuit court of appeals in reversing the conviction of National Cash Register officials of violations of the law, spelled another defeat for the government in what its legal officers regard as the most important prosecution ever instituted under the criminal section of the anti-trust law.

Assigns No Reasons.

Chief Justice White announced the court's decision along with the announcement of denials of applications for review in a dozen or more cases. No reasons were assigned and no indications given as to whether the refusal was based on lack of jurisdiction to review a criminal case upon the application of the government or on an approval of law as laid down by the circuit court judges and by Justice Day who sat in this case.

At the department of justice tonight, while no official statement was issued, it was frankly admitted that the government had considered the cash register case the strongest that could possibly be brought under the criminal provisions of the Sherman law and that failure of this case was accepted as meaning that criminal prosecution under the law would almost certainly fail. Under the decision of the circuit court of appeals the government now may take the case back to the trial court in an effort to make effective the remaining counts in the indictments against the cash register defendants. Officials of the department said this point had not been fully decided and that for the present there would be no announcement of the government's purpose.

First Important Defeat.

The first important deefat suffered by the government in its effort to enforce the criminal features of the Sherman law came a year ago when the supreme court set aside the convictions of officials of the American Naval Stores company because of erroneous instructions of the trial court.

CAMINETTI LOSES FIGHT FOR A REVIEW OF HIS CONVICTION

Supreme Court Denies Application Without Opinion.

Washington, June 14—F. Drew Caminetti lost his fight today in the supreme court for a review of his conviction in the federal court at San Francisco of violating the Mann white slave law. The court denied the application without opinion. Caminetti, who is the son of A. Caminetti, commissioner-general of immigration, was found guilty with Maury I. Diggs of transporting for improper purposes two girls from Sacramento, California, to Reno, Nevada. He was fined $1000 and sentenced to 18 months imprisonment. This was the first case under the Mann law to reach the supreme court in which the commercial element was absent. The review was asked on the graund that the law is not applicable to cases in which only immorality is involved and that further, if it is applicable it is unconstitutional.

WILSON MAKES AN APPEAL FOR PATRIOTISM IN EVERY DAY LIFE

President's Flag Day Address Is Greeted With Enthusiastic and Prolonged Applause.

Washington, June 14—A tribute to the "great multitude of unknown men" who constitute the body of the nation and an appeal for patriotism in every day life instead of on special occasions, only, marked a speech by President Wilson today to a crowd gathered before the south steps of the treasury building for Flag Day exercises.

While the president made no direct reference to the European war or international questions his every word about American patriotism and what it means in these times was greeted with enthusiastic and prolonged applause.

In introducing Mr. Wilson, Secretary McAdoo said the meeting was held to pay homage to the flag of our country at a time when it has a deeper significance than ever before in the world's history, when it is the hope of civilization.

GERMANY DISCONTINUES EXCEPTIONAL TREATMENT

Berlin, via London, June 14—As a result of American mediation the exceptional treatment which was being accorded submarine boat prisoners in England and an equal number of British officers prisoners in Germany, had been discontinued

GEN. VILLA URGES PEACE CONFERENCE

Telegraphs Carranza Proposing Meeting for Re-Organization of Gov't.

NOTIFIES UNITED STATES

Northern Leader Lays Stress Upon President's Warning in Message to Constitutionalist

DENY ENTRY OF FOODSTUFFS

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The United Staes was formally notified today by General Villa on behalf of the Mexican convention forces that he had telegraphed General Carranza urging a conference for the restoration of peace and constitutional government in Mexico.

First Tangible Development.

This step is the first tangible development resulting from President Wilson's recent warning to all Mexican factions that unless they came to an agreement among themselves soon, some other means would be employed by the United States to relieve the suffering population from further devastation of the military element.

On General Carranza's reply depends the next move in the situation.

Deny Entry of Foodstuffs.

Coincidentally the state department was advised by Miss Mabel Boardman of the American Red Cross that the Mexican authorities at Piedras Negras had denied entry to a carload of foodstuffs consigned for the relief of people on Monclava. Consul Blocker is endeavoring to use his good offices to arrange for the transportation of the supplies. One report says that General Rosalio Hernandez, the Villa commander had declared the supplies "not only were not needed but would not be allowed to enter."

Until Consul Blocker reports the details, the state department will take no further action.

Outlines Purpose of Leaders.

The announcement that General Villa had initiated a movement for peace was received with satisfaction in official quarters. Enrique C. Llorente, Washington representative of the Xilla-Zapata coalition, called on Secretary Lansing with a copy of the Villa telegram to Carranza and a long note from General Villa replying to President Wilson's recent pronounceemnt of policy. The note referred appreciatively to the president's efforts and outlined the purposes of the Villa-Zapata leaders to bring about a reconciliation with the Carranzistas.

In the message to Carranza, dated June 11th, and sent direct from the camp of the northern general at Aguas Calientes to the first chief at Vera Cruz, stress is laid upon President Wilson's warning that the United States would be obliged to decide on other methods should a coalition of the factions prove futile. General Villa says:

Warning Involves Two Perils.

"In our opinion this declaration involves two perils, which may frustrate the ends of the revolution and impair our sovereignty.

"First the cientificios with any other group might again enthrone themselves with American assistance. Second, should the people not submit to this the American government might have recourse to armed intervention. In the face of these two imminent dangers and without recognizing the right of the American government to intervene in our affairs, we think that we should seek means that would permit the re-union and re-organization of the constitutionalist party, even though it be indispensable to make sacrifices of self esteem. We believe also that this is what patriotism and the future welfare of our country requires of us.

Asks Re-organization of Government

"In such sense we propose to you that we take under consideration President Wilson's note and that, if you are so disposed, as we ourselves are, that you advise us that we may discuss and agree at once upon the form and terms of procedure in the re-organization of the national constitutional government. We have already placed ourselves in touch with the chief of the convention government as well as with the commanding general of the army of the south."

The telegram was signed by General Villa and M. Diaz Lombardo, in charge of the department of foreign affairs of the convention government.

London, June 15—Reuter's Athens correspondent telegraphing Monday night says: "Tonight's bulletin says that the general weakness of King Constantine continues. His temperature this evening was 99.14, pulse 100 and respiration 20."

War News Summarized

All the late advices concerning the progress of events along the important battle front in Galicia come from Vienna and Berlin. These report big reverses to the Russians from Jaroslau almost to the Bukowina frontier. Heavy Russian losses both in killed and wounded and in prisoners are emphasized in the Austro-German official statements. Near Mosciska, 16,000 Russians are said to have been taken.

The Russian line east and southeast from Jaroslau has been pierced and the Russians have been compelled to retreat, at other points the Russians have been routed or driven back—this according to Vienna.

The Russian war office has been silent on the latest phase of the situation as no official statement has been issued during the last twenty-four hours, but recent advices from Petrograd indicated that the Austro-Germans were attacking heavily in various sectors.

In the western war zone the much referred to sector north of Arras is still the scene of the heaviest fighting. For weeks the French have daily pressed their attacks, gaining ground foot by foot and occasionally losing some of that for the possession of which they had paid a heavy toll. The French also are making progress in Lorraiene.

Belated official statements from Belgian headquarters indicate that the Belgians are keeping the attention of the Germans occupied along the Yser canal, where they have captured a German blockhouse.

Along the Austro-Italian frontier there is heavy fighting in the region of Plava. This town the Italians were reported to have captured but this has been denied by Vienna. The Austrians declare that along the Isonza river the Italian forces have nowhere succeeded in piercing the Austrian front.

BERLIN PAPER PRINTS NOTEWORTHY ARTICLE

EUGENE ZIMMERMAN DISCUSSES GERMAN-AMERICAN RELATIONS

Asserts Wilson Only Desires an Understanding Between Germany and England Concerning Maritime Warfare Which Will Insure Safety of Americans.

Berlin, via London, June 14—The Lokal Anzeiger prints a noteworthy article on German-American relations by its general director Eugene Zimmermann, which, coming on the heels of Friday's conciliatory article, is taken to mean that influential representatives of politics and business are standing behind this paper and exerting their efforts for a German-American understanding.

Task Can Be Solved.

"President Wilson", says Herr Zimmermann, "desires nothing more and nothing less than an understanding between Germany and England concerning the forms of maritime warfare, which, at the same time, will insure the safety of American passengers. The task is not light considering the development of naval war, but it can be solved if all interests display good will."

"A new form might be given to naval warfare", Herr Zimmermann continues, "on the basis that passengers on ships with special marks of identification and sailing under the government guarantee that they are unarmed, should receive proper consideration at the hands of submarine commanders. The compromise must also involve the withdrawal of the British admiralty's instructions to merchantmen to attack and ram submarines on sight."

Pays Respect to "Typewriter Heroes"

The article ventures to indicate for the first time to the German public that there may be a second side to the question of arms on which the press has been for months harping. Herr Zimmermann pays his respects to what he terms typewriter heroes, who, far from the front are preaching war to the knife against everybody and concludes:

"We wish to act and write with blood and iron but, just because we are fearless and determined, we may look for ways by which to arrive at an understanding with America. We need not close up our department of incoming and outgoing declarations of war which heretofore has worked notably but it seems to me that we can curtail the output somewhat without incurring a reputation for excessive action."

HOUSE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS BOXING BILL FOR PASSAGE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 14.—The Carroll boxing bill, which was passed by the state senate several weeks ago, was reported out and recommended for passage tonight by the house license committee.

Amendments lowering the salaries of the members of the proposed state athletic commission from $5,000 to $2,500 a year and increasing the state's revenue from 5 to 7½ per cent of the net receipts of all boxing bouts were added. The measure was amended by the senate making it ineffective until adopted by the various municipalities at a referendum vote.

SPEAKS AGAINST UTILITY BILLS

Fisher Compares Measures With Allen and Humphrey Franchise Bills

FORECAST STRIKE PROBE

Senate Resolution Would Have Dunne Direct Utilities Commission to Investigate Strike

PASSES ANTI-TIPPING BILL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 14.—The three bills providing for home rule for Chicago in the handling of its public utilities and providing for the merger and granting of long term franchises to the Chicago Elevated and surface lines were compared with the famous Allen and Humphrey franchise bills tonight by Walter I. Fisher of Chicago, former member of President Taft's cabinet.

Beale Suggests Substitute.

Mr. Fisher spoke against the bills before the public utilities committee of the lower house. William G. Beale, a Chicago attorney representing the elevated railways and the Commonwealth Edison company of Chicago, spoke in favor of the merger and franchise bills, but suggested a substitute for the pending home rule bill which would place the control of public utilities in Chicago in the hands of a commission to be appointed by the mayor. No action was taken tonight.

An immediate investigation by the state of the carmen's strike in Chicago was forcast when a resolution requesting Governor Dunne to direct the state public utilities commission to make an immediate investigation of the strike with a view to a quick settlement was introduced in the senate by Senator John T. Denvir of Chicago. The resolution was made a special order for consideration tomorrow. It requests Governor Dunne to have the commission investigate and report in writing to the senate this week.

Pass Anti-Tipping Bill.

The senate tonight passed the Broderick anti-tipping bill which prohibits the division of tips between employes and employers. Among other bills passed by the senate were:

Giving cities and villages the right to lease submerged and made lands for periods not exceeding ninety-nine years.

Changing the time of holding drainage district elections from November to September.

Providing for the incorporation, management and regulation of loan associations for the purpose of making loans on personal credits.

Providing that city and township elections shall be held on the same day.

Providing that supervisors, town clerks, town collectors and town assessors shall be elected for four year terms.

Prohibit Begging by Children.

The lower house passed the Gardner bill prohibiting children under ten years from begging or selling any articles, or from their aiding any person in so doing. The bill permits courts, in lieu of penalties for persons contributing to the delinquency of a child to release the defendants on probation for one year. The efficiency and economy commission's bill revising the law regarding state contracts was passed by the house. It places the governor in control of this department and provides for competitive bids for all state contracts. It abolishes the state board of contracts and office of printer expert, whose place will be taken by a superintendent of public printing at a salary of $5,000.

An investigation of the causes of the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease among Illinois livestock is provided for in a joint resolution offered in the senate tonight by Senator Barr and adopted under a suspension of the rules.

Thomson of New Orleans, which will take place at "Honeyshuck" the Clark home at Bowling Green, Mo., June 30th.

Those who expect to attend are asked to notify Mr. Bassford at Mexico, Mo.

REPORTS-ENCOURGE PRESIDENT WILSON

ADVICES FROM BERLIN TELL OF FAVORABLE RECEPTION OF NOTE

To Wait Until Discussion With Germany Has Shaped Itself More Clearly Before Sending Protest to Great Britain

Washington, June 14—President Wilson feels encouraged by reports that the pending negotiations between Germany and the United States most likely will have a peaceful outcome.

Those who have discussed the situation with the president and other officials in the last day or two have found a belief prevailent that the chances for an amicable understanding with Germany are much better than they have been at any time since the Lusitania tragedy. This feeling is understood to be based on both official and unofficial reports from Berlin, telling of the favorable reception there of the American note and on the hope too, that the dispatches carried by Dr. Anton Meyer Gerhard for Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador here, will impress German officials with the American point of view. Senator Simmons of North Carolina who saw the president during the evening and who has been talking with other officials about the situation spoke tonight of finding a general feeling of optimism.

It was learned that the president does not plan to send another note to Great Britain protesting against the interference with commerce between the United States and neutral countries of Europe until the discussion with Germany has shaped itself more clearly.

This does not necessarily mean, it was said, that the president will wail until a reply is received from Germany, thought the British note has not been thoroughly discussed.

Col. E. M. Hause, the president's friend who arrived in New York from Europe yesterday, is expected to give the president much valuable information not only regarding the feeling in Germany but about the possibility of obtaining a modification by Great Britain and French of the blockade operations as they affect neutral commerce.

DEDICATE MONUMENT TO GERMANS AND FRENCH WHO FELL IN BATTLE

SEDAN, France, June 14.—A Franco-German monument, erected to the memory of the German and French soldiers who fell in the battle for the crossing of the Meuse, was dedicated at Noyers, near here. The German army commander, General Von Einem, and many other high officers and detachments of German troops who were engaged in the battle were present at the exercises.

General Von Einem in an address in French entrusted the monument, which is inscribed in French and German "for the fatherland," to the care of the French residents. The French district president in replying to the address of General VonEinem expressed his appreciation of the fact that the Germans had recognized not only their victorious battalions but that those who had died for their country were worthy of honor.

SPEAKERS URGE BETTER NAVAL AND MILITARY PREPAREDNESS

NEW YORK, June 14.—Better military and naval preparedness on the part of the United tSates was urged here tonight by speakers of national prominence at a mass meeting at Carnegie Hall under the auspices of the National Security League, which today began a two day peace and preparation conference at which twenty-five states were represented. The speakers tonight included Jacob M. Dickinson and Henry L. Stimson, former secretaries of war; Charles J. Bonaparte, former attorney general, Judge Alton B. Parker, who is honorary vice president of the league and Dr. Layman B. Abbott.

In introducing Judge Parker as chairman of the meeting Standwood Menkin, president of the league outlined its purposes and said that conference desired to inquire into steps which should be taken for an adequate national defense.

TWO TORNADOES SWEEP PART OF ADAMS CONNTY, NEBRASKA

HASTINGS, Neb., June 14.—Two tornadoes swept a part of Adams county this evening. No great damage was done by the wind but the hail storm which followed devastated a section of farming country 150 miles long and five or six miles wide. North and west windows were broken and trees were stripped of foliage, fruit trees bared and gardens ruined. The wheat crop is a complete loss.

On the north side of buildings hail was piled up a foot deep.

PROMISES FAIR WEATHER.

Chicago, June 14.—At least one day's letup in the rain which was general through the middle west today is promised for tomorrow by the United States weather bureau. The weather from the western lakes and middle Mississippi valley westward to the Rocky Mountains Tuesday and Wednesday will be generally fair. Moreover, the temperature changes in this section will not be pronounced, the forecast concluded.

GERMANY CLAIMS DECIDED SUCCESS

Capture Russ Positions Along A Line Extending Over Forty-Three Miles

TAKE 16,000 PRISONERS

French Continue Battering Tactics Against Formidable German Positions in West

THROW TROOPS ACROSS YSER

LONDON, June 14.—Germany today claimed another decided success along the eastern line. Northwest of Mosciska in the region of Sienlawa the German report said that along a line extending over 43 miles the entire positions of the Russians were taken and that 16,000 prisoners fell into their hands. The Russian official report, however, only mentioned the locality where this activity is said to have taen place in a paragraph which declared that the Austro-Germans, after heavy losses in the region of Mosciska Friday and Saturday did not resume the offensive.

Make Another Crossing.

According to Petrograd the Austro-Germans have made another crossing of the Dniester, where a brilliant cavalry charge at Zale Szczyky resulted in a local Russian success, but no claim is made that the invaders were pushed back across the river. A crossing of the river at this place may not be a serious affair for the Russians as it is remote from Lemberg and an advance from it might expose the Austro-German flank.

On the western front the French continue their battering tactics against formidable German positions with some assistance from the Belgians, who have thrown a battalion across the Yser to the east bank where south of the Dixmude railway bridge they destroyed a German blockhouse. They claim they have retained this position despite German counter-attack.

Election of Venizelos Seems Certain.

The full returns of the Greek elections are not yet available but the triumph of M. Venizelos, former premier, seems certain. The continued illness of Greek king may prevent the victory of the war party from having any immediate results.

Great Britain which had braced itself for the shock of the announcement of the issues of another $1,250,000,000 war budget must wait another day as the house of commons rose this evening without Reginald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer, having made the announcement.

TWO STATE CONVENTIONS OPEN IN SPRINGFIELD TODAY

One of the features of the druggists' meeting will be the minstrel show to be given tomorrow evening by the Chicago drug club.

According to a writer in the Chicago Tribune one of the greatest problems which now faces England is the increase in the cost of living. Food stuffs there have advanced an average of 43 per cent since the beginning of the war and a comparison shows that the increase has been greater than in Berlin or Vienna. This fact is occasioning some criticism and there is a growing feeling that the government should take hold of food supplies and regulate the prices at which they can be sold. This dissatisfaction about prices may have somthing to do with the difficulty England is having to secure enough enlistments for the war.

The Old Order Changeth.

The fire whistle, once the time-honored signal of conflagrations has fallen into disrepute. It used to be the case that an alarm was sounded in order to summon volunteers or call firemen and to generally apprise the people that flames were destroying property. Now in every city of any size a paid fire department is kept and in a number of cities no alarm is sounded except under very grave conditions.

In Moline the city council has just given the order to "cut out" the fire whistle as it was found that the only effect of sounding it was to attract a big crowd of onlookers who aided not at all and were often in the way. Thus do time honored customs disappear before the oncoming of new methods and equipment.

An Appropriate Idea.

The dedication of the new city system of boulevard lighting on flag day was an appropriate idea. The observance of flag day is a testimonial of our patriotic love of country and the building of the new lighting system is but another indication of our patriotic love of Jacksonville. Because the work of organizing for this improvement was in competent hands and because the people of Jacksonville are always ready to do the right and proper thing when it is pointed out, the new lighting system was an accomplished fact within a comparatively short time.

The new lights were needed. They are attractive and ornamental and certainly property owners in the residence districts seeing how much the boulevard lamps add to the attractiveness of a street will want them. Let the movement spread. Jacksonville with boulevard lights on every street would be beautiful indeed.

The Star of Hope.

Just the other day "Dutch Louie" known throughout the southwest as the hermit of the Pacolma walked slowly from his hut to a nearby hillside and dug himself a grave. Then he dragged himself back to the hut, dressed himself in his best clothes, wrote a note to the coroner, and laid down to die for he somehow seemed to know that his last hours had come.

Beside his body they found the note which contained instructions as to where he was to be buried and in a few lines too he sketched his philosophy of life for he wrote, "I do not fear death for it is the inevitable wages of life—and I have lived. For scores of years I have lived in the hope of finding the bonanza I dreamed of and prayed for. So I was cheered to the end by the star of hope."

And what a life this would be here if it were not for the "star of hope" which lights each pathway. In childhood, youth, manhood, middle life and old age there comes this star, save to the very unfortunate few, buoys us upward and onward and makes life worth the living. The average life accomplishes many things that are hoped for and yet if it is a "big" life there are many "stars of hope" that are unattained.

Model Civil Service Law.

The report of a special committee appointed to draft a model civil service law that will be applicable to all states in the Union and will be urged for passage in all legislatures will be rendered today at the opening of the national assembly of civil service commissioners in Los Angeles.

The essential features embodied in the draft of a model law submitted are as follows: First, that government should be controlled by the people; second, that public officers and places which are not directly charged with the conduct of general political policies belong of right to all of the people; third, that the civil service shall be effective, and fourth, that the government in its capacity as an employer should be just and fair to its own employes.

To render effective these four principles of the merit system, the report declares that it is obvious that the body charged with their administration, usually known as the civil service commission, must be composed of experts in the science of employment; that for the purposes of the merit system they must have jurisdiction over the whole subject of employment from the point where it is proposed to create a position through to the point where the position is abolished or the employee is pensioned, removed or laid off; that the civil service commission should be responsible to the people and removable for causes analogous to those which may result in the removal of any other civil servant, and that the commission should not be controlled by or be responsible to any political officer.

Mr. Bryan's Proteges.

Few men have entered upon the duties of secretary of state with so many political obligations as did Mr. Bryan, and no secretary of state has ever repaid his obligations by the appointment to desirable office of so many of his proteges. The assistant secretary of state, John E. Osborne, is not only a protege of Mr. Bryan's, but was appointed to that office primarily to look after Mr. Bryan's political interests. Mr. Bryan's son is a United States district attorney and his son-in-law holds a well-compensated office under the government. His former secretary, Robert F. Rose, is a foreign trade adviser, and the other trade adviser is William B. Fleming, who endeared himself to Mr. Bryan by being the only man ever elected to the bench in Louisville on the "16 to 1" ticket. Ex-Governor John Lind is a close friend of Mr. Bryan and there are a host of others throughout the government service and the diplomatic corps. Should the new secretary of state be actuated by a determination to fill these various offices with his own friends there would be such a sweeping out of Bryanites that the state department would hardly know itself.

A PROTEST AGAINST COLDNESS

Editor of The Journal:

I see in Sunday's Journal where you wish an answer to the question, Why people will stand an hour in a public park and listen to a man preach when it would be next to impossible to get those same people into a church. That's a very easy question answered; just one word answers it. That word is 'Welcome.' They felt both welcome and on an equal there in the park and tired feet were forgotten for the time being. At church its different. The church people seem (to an outsider) so cold, stiff and selfish, that they (the outsiders) feel ill at ease and are glad to get out, where air at least is free and welcome to all. An auto ride, and a plush cushion isn't what those people need. They need a warm handshake from the minister, and all members that can conveniently do so, and made to feel welcome. If that was done I believe they would willingly stay there an hour, without an auto ride or cushion as well as in the park.

A well wisher for all.

BIRTHDAY OF OLD GLORY.

One hundred and thirty eight years ago, on June 14, 1777, Congress, representing the thirteen federated colonies, legislated "that the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white, on a blue field, representing a new contellation."

The first time the stripes design was publicly recognized as the American flag was when it was flown from Prospect Hill, in Somerville, Mass., early in January, 1776. It was this flag that was selected by the committee sent from Congress to Cambridge to confer with Washington as to the adoption of some national emblem.

The thirteen stripes were made of the same width to express equal importance of the colonies, and were sewed together to express their unity of purpose. White was chosen to represent the idea of just and reasonable demands that might be secured by peaceable means. Red was chosen to represent the force and determination that must be used, if necessary, to secure justice.

This first flag bore the British union. Later stars, emblematic of the new constellation and permanence of liberty, were used, and were arranged in a circle to represent the endlessness of the colonies' federation.

The first official flag of the United States was made by Betsy Ross in Philadelphia in the summer of 1776. Elizabeth Griscom Ross was a widow and kept a little upholstery shop in Arch street. One morning she had as visitors George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin. This august committee had come to ask Mrs. Ross to sew a flag whose design had just been completed. She glanced over the design and suggested changes. The committee were more versed in diplomacy than in needlework, so they accepted her suggestions. One of her changes was that the flag should be oblong instead of square as they had designed it.

Though the striped flag was flown to the breeze in January, 1776 and was perfected by Mrs. Ross and Congress, it did not have its official birth until the next year, when Congress formally adopted the national emblem.

By 1818, when territorial expansion was proceeding on a stupendous scale, it was seen that the flag was about to become an unlovely, cumbersome affair, for it then had twenty stars and twenty stripes. So a law was enacted that year which gave us the flag of today—thirteen stripes for the original colonies, and stars arranged in parrelled lines on the union, one for each state as it was admitted.

Rent Houses Wanted

There has never been a time when desirable rent houses, $7.50 to $25, were scarcer at Johnston Agency than they are today. Our facilities for securing the right renter for the right house are good. Being the only agency in the city making a specialty of this business, a constant stream of applicants pours through our office. We know what is due to tenants in the way of repairs, and our tenants stay. On the other hand, we collect all rents in advance, and we do not, upon the average, lose a full month's rent upon one house a year.

Landlords—We think you will find it profitable, and save yourselves a great amount of trouble, if you will let us attend to your rentals. We have made a science of it. And we respectfully solicit your business.

REVIEW TESTIMONY FOR AND AGAINST FRANK BEFORE GOVERNOR

Case Will be Finally Submitted to Georgia Executive Wednesday.

Atlanta, Ga., June 14.—Testimony for and against Leo M. Frank presented at his trial and in subsequent court proceedings was reviewed before Governor Slaton today at the hearing on Frank's application for commutation of his death sentence. When the hearing is resumed Wednesday W. M. Howard will complete his argument in behalf of Frank and the case then finally will be submitted to the governor.

Solicitor Dorsey in his argument undertook to convince the governor of Frank's guilt on the testimony of other witnesses than Jim Conley, the negro who was convicted as an accessory after the murder. Mr. Howard also relied upon the record to show Frank's innocence he declared the trail of the murderer led from the "murder notes" found beside the girl's body and which Conley testified he wrote at Frank's dictation.

Howard attacked Conley's affidavits and testimony and asserted his story was "a cunning invention of Conley's own mind, contrived to save his own life and to place the noose of the law around the neck of another."

"Mary Phagan", said Mr. Dorsey, "was not seen alive by anybody after Frank saw her. Blood was found on Frank's floor and the hair identified as Mary's was found on his floor."

Mr Dorsey called the governor's attention to testimony of several witnesses that Frank showed evidence of extreme nervousness when he was taken to the factory and into the basement the morning Mary Phagan's body was found there.

Taking up his reply to Mr. Dorsey Howard said:

"Eliminating Conley's testimony there is nothing in the circumstantial evidence to connect Frank with the murder of Mary Phagan. The only point in this record, where Frank is coupled with this crime is in the allegation of his connection with the murder notes and on this point, there is only Conley's story that Frank dictated them to him."

CHARGES ADMIRAL FULLAM WITH TAMPERING WITH WITNESSES

Annapolis, June 14.—A virtual charge of tampering with evidence of witnesses before the court of inquiry which is investigating irregularties in examination papers at the naval academy was made today against Admiral Fullam, superintendent of the academy, by Congressman James Hay of counsel for seven of the midshipmen defendants.

When the court re-assembled at the luncheon recess, Mr. Ray arose and said that "in view of the evidence given by Midshipmen C. O. Ward and W. J. Heath this morning and almost every other midshipmen who has appeared on the stand that they have been taken to the office of the superintendent of the academy and there that either the superintendent or his aide had told them that if they take a certain position in this case what would happen to them, it seems to me and my associates that that is tampering with the evidence of the witnesses who are summoned by this court.

SITUATION IN CENTRAL MEXICO IS SATISFACTORY TO VILLA

Carothers Arrives in El Paso From Aguas Calientes and Prepares to Make His Report to Washington.

El Paso, Texas, June 14.—The military situation on the Villa-Obregon front in central Mexico is satisfactory to General Francisco Villa, according to George C. Carothers, special representative of the United States who arrived here today from Aguas Calientes. Contrary to earlier advices, Miguel Diaz Lombardo, foreign minister in the Villa cabinet, stopped in Chihuahua, deciding to delay his visit to the border.

Mr. Carothers declined to discuss the recent conference of General Villa and his cabinet which framed the Villa reply to President Wilson's note but prepared immediately to make his report to Washington.

Advices reaching Chihuahua, Torreon and Aguas Calientes in the last few days have contained no information of fighting between Lagos and Leon, according to passengers arriving from the south. The general belief is that both Villa and General Benjamin Hill, who succeeded to the command of the Carranza forces when Obregon was wounded, have been engaged in re-organizing and establishing their troops along new lines since the retirement of Villa to Lagos.

Rheumatism? Here Are Some Real Facts

How to Overcome the Torture Without Harmful Drugs.

A legion of people have used S. S. S. and have overcome the worst forms of rheumatism.

This disease of the blood is little understood because of its strange symptoms, scarcely two people having it exactly alike. And yet, no matter what its form or how painful and distressing, S. S. S. seems to have almost a divine influence in driving it out, releasing the nerves from pain and clearing the joints and muscles so they work without restraint. The best explanation for this happy result is the fact that in S. S. S. are certain ingredients which act as an antidote. They are nature's providence to man.

Just as the meats, fats, salts and sugars of our daily food provide us with nourishment, so does S. S. S. give to the blood the exact medicinal requirement to clear the stream, drive out impurities and reconstruct the body if destructive germs have gained a foothold. Go to any drug store today and get a bottle of S. S. S. It will do you good. But be sure to refuse any and all substitutes. And if yours is a stubborn case, write to the Medical Adviser, The Swift Specific Co., 109 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. This department is presided over by a physician proud of his name by virtue of his distinguished family and a foremost doctor on his own merits.

Paris, June 14—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight;

"In the sector to the north of Arras we repulsed during the course of last night several attacks against our trenches on the road between Aix-Noulette and Souchez, consolidated the positions gained by us to the east of Lorette, made a further advance to the right of these positions of about 150 meters and progressed in the southeast section of the Labynth. The artillery struggle in this sector has been nearly continuous.

"To the southeast of Hebuterne we arrested by our fire an attack against our trenches on the road from Serre to Mailly-Maillet. The check to the enemy was followed by a violent bombardment. In the region about the Quennevires farm we made slight progress in the branch trenches and saps and inflicted serious losses to the enemy reconnaissances. Throughout the day the artillery engagement has been quite lively.

"In Lorraine we have carried our lines forward in the region of embermenil and the forest of Parroy. Our progress in that sector continues without interruption."

COLORED MEN QUARRELED.

As the result of some difference of opinion over a game of craps Sunday afternoon, Anthony Hamilton is a patient at Passavant hospital. He was stabbed by Levi Rose, and though the injuries are not considered serious, he will be at the hospital for a number of days. Both men are colored and with some companions were indulging in a game in a pasture near the south side pumping station, when the trouble which ended in the stabbing took place. Hamilton was able to walk to Hardin avenue and there accosted someone who was driving in a buggy and was taken to the hospital. A warrant has been issued for Rose's arrest, but he is not yet in custody. There have been several complaints of disturbances in the pasture near the pumping station, and Chief of Police Davis will detail some member of the force to look after this district on coming Sunday afternoons.

Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason

MIGHT BE WORSE

The window sash came hurtling down on Kickshaw's shapely head and neck; it nearly spoiled his toilworn crown, and made his ears a hopeles wreck. Then Kickshaw sat and nursed his head, a man reduced to grievous pass; yet with a cheerful smile, he said, "I'm glad it didn't break the glass." He might have ripped around and swore, till people heard him round a block, or kicked a panel from the door, or thrown the tomcat through the clock; he might have dealt in language weird, and made the housewife's blood run cold, he might have raved and torn his beard, and wept as Rachel wept of old. But Kickshaw's made of better stuff, no tears he shed, no teeth he grinds; when dire misfortune makes a bluff, he looks for comfort, which he finds. And so he bears his throbbing ache, and puts a poultice on his brain, and says, "I'm glad it didn't break that rich, imported window pane". It never helps a man to beef, when trouble comes and knocks him lame; there's solace back of every grief, if he will recognize the same.

DEDICATE NEW HALL AT UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 14.—The outstanding feature of the 95th convocation of the University of Chicago was the dedication this morning of the Classics building. President Harry Pratt Judson made the opening address. Other speakers were Frank low Tarbell, head of the department of history and art; Carl D. Buck, head of the department of comparative philology; William G. Hale, head of the department of Latin, and Paul Shorey, head of the department of Greek. The new building is a handsome addition to the university.

SITUATION IN CENTRAL MEXICO IS SATISFACTORY TO VILLA

El Paso, Texas, June 14.—The military situation on the Villa-Obregon front in central Mexico is satisfactory to General Francisco Villa, according to George C. Carothers, special representative of the United States who arrived here today from Aguas Calientes. Contrary to earlier advices, Miguel Diaz Lombardo, foreign minister in the Villa cabinet, stopped in Chihuahua, deciding to delay his visit to the border.

Mr. Carothers declined to discuss recent conference of General Villa and his cabinet which framed the reply to President Wilson's note prepared immediately to make to Washington.

Woodman got lost Sunday in center He grabbed a ball and instead of throwing it to third to head off a runner he pegged to first. It isn't often that Woodman loses the play.

McGraw's Giants held the Reds to a tie in ten innings. It has been difficult for the Giants to find anybody recently that they could hold to anything.

Cy Rolfs is a great pitcher but he didn't have anything Sunday that would fool the locals. His team mates did the best they could but the locals outgessed them all the time.

The visitors took Sambo off of third base and substituted an outfielder. Why this was done is hard to fathom. Sambo made the only run made by Divernon, made one of the hits and stole a base. He looked as good as any of the rest.

Covaleskie held Philadelphia to three hits Monday and Detroit won 2 to 1. Cobb did not get a hit but he managed to get on and steal a base. The Georgia peach looks due to again lead the American in batting and base running.

Mamaux who has been winning regularly of late met his Waterloo Monday. He held Alexander of Philadelphia to a one to one tie for eleven innings. Then he weakened and the Phillies scored three runs, winning the game.

The Yanks took two games from St. Louis. The first was a walkaway, New York making fourteen hits and twelve runs. The second game was better as they nosed St. Louis out by one run, the score being 5 to 4.

The crowd was one of the largest that has bene at Nichols park, outside of the big Fourth of July crowd last year, since they started to play ball there. This, despite the fact that automobiles could not get to the grounds because of the high water.

Rowland's Sox whipped Washington Monday 8 to 2. Rowland certainly has his batting order framed up in good shape. Out of the twelve hits made by Chicago yesterday E. Collins, Fournier and J. Collins made nine of them. Incidentally they got two of the eight runs and Buck Weaver who hits ahead of them made three runs and did not get a safety.

Everybody went out to see the Eagles slaughtered. The slaughter occurred but it was the other way. The Eagles looked like a real ball team. That infield certainly looks nifty. When Dick Wheeler plays a couple more games he is going to show people around here how the short field should be played.

Some people commented Sunday about the Eagles advertising pitchers and not having them. The fact of the matter is that McCollister, business manager of the Eagles, got word from Travis of Havana that he would be here. Freeman also telegraphed a week ago that he would be on hand. What object these men have in promising and not showing up, no one knows.

Right here we might add a word of suggestion. A great many people have been saying that Charley White was no pitcher. Even some of his team mates have said that he couldn't beat a good team. The Divernon team with the exception of two men, was the same that beat the

When Does It Pay to Raise a Calf?

The dairyman's main object in raising calves shold be to improve his herd. He may also raise stock for sale either for breeding or for slaughter. Under ordinary conditions it will pay to raise every well-bred heifer calf. Heifer calves of inferior breedoing and grade bull calves or pure bred bulls of inferior breeding should not be raised with breeding purposes. Unless conditions are such that it will pay to raise these for meat, it is best to kill such calves at birth. Then they will not leave any inferior offspring in the country.—Bulletin 149, Nebraska Station.

Damage Due to Weeds.

The full reason why weeds reduce yields is not definitely known. It is well recognized that weeds deprive crops of moisture, plant food and sunlight, and by these means cause decreased yields. Experiments have shown, however, that even where there is a supply of moisture and plant food sufficient for the needs of both the weeds and the crop, weeds still exert a detrimental effect. This may be due in partt to the weed roots giving off substances which are poisonous to crops. The fact that weeds do harm in more ways than has been supposed is all the more reason why the farmer should make strenuous efforts to subdue these invaders. I and that should produce 60 bushels of corn may yield no more than 20 bushels if weeds are not kept down by adequate cultivation, and the net profit to the farmer is relatively much less for the resulting poor crop than these figures on yield show.

Another loss results from the presence of weed seeds in crop seeds. This necessitates much labor in separating or results in dockage by dealers if the separation is not made. Wheat containing wild onion bulblets is sometimes docked as much as 50 per cent, and in some cases there is no sale at all for such wheat. The agricultural experiment station of Minnesota estimates that in that state alone the damage to wheat due to weed seeds amounts to $2,500,000 yearly.

There are other causes of damage resulting from weeds which in some cases are important. The harvesting and curing of crops are sometimes made difficult by the presence of weeds. Russian thistle, bindweed and Canada thistle usually are a source of great annoyance at harvest time to the growers of small grains. Again, some weeds harbor fungus and insect troubles which attack nearby crops. The clubroot of cabbage is fostered on the wild mustard tribe of weeds and the Colorado potato beetle lives also on nightshade and henbane. Furthermore, some weeds are poisonous or otherwise injurious to men, live stock or live stock products. Poison ivy, sumac, jimson weed and the seeds of corn cockle are poisonous to man; wild onion and bitterweed spoil dairy products; cowbane, water parsnip and loco weed are poisonous to stock, and the barbed seeds of squirrel-tail grass and porcupine grass penetrate the noses and mouths of live stock, causing painful sores.—U. S. Farmers' Bulletin No. 660.

The Little Farm Well Tilled.

A man we know began his business life as a renter on good cornbelt farms. He was a good tenant and a successful farmer. Hogs in clover made much of his profit. In time he had laid by enough money to make a payment on an 80-acre hill farm, mostly of clay land. There was a poor, small house on the land. He lived there for a few years while he dug dollars out of the hills. He kept but little labor, made but little hay, grew much clover and a fair amount of corn, kept six good cows and raised their calves on separator milk. Five acres of alfalfa he had at last, a good barn and a really commodious farmhouse.

"I did it," he said, "by patience and pigs and clover. We paid off a debt of $4,000 first of all. Then we accumulated the other things—I can hardly tell how. That little bit of alfalfa is a godsend to us, but if we had 25 acres we would have to keep too many cows and too many pigs; there would be too much work to do."

We award this plucky man all praise. It remains for him to get a new vision, a vision of his 80 acres doing their best. That means certainly that 25 of them shall be sown in alfalfa. With more animals and more labor to do, he must hire more help. Already a farm cottage is indicated on that place. Can not the 80 acres send the son to an agricultural college? Yes, if he is the right sort of son.—Breeders' Gazette.

Future of Draft Horse Industry.

"Horses are today more numerous by nearly 4,000,000 head, and are higher in price than in 1900, in spite of the rapid increase in automobiles, auto trucks and tractor engines. Transportation needs have increased more rapidly than the agencies of transportation and so far as we can judge the future there is no reason to believe that there will be any serious curtailment in demand for horses within the next fty years.—Wayne Dinsmore, Secretary Percheron Society of America, in the Agricultural Student, Ohio State University.

An Ideal Rural School.

"The rural school is the farmers' school. It must prepare children in the first eight grades for great responsibilities, for it is a conservative estimate that 90 per cent of the children who enter rural schools never go any farther than the eighth grade. These boys and girls so educated are to be entrusted with the management of our tremendous agricultural wealth and almost boundless resources and opportunities. Our agricultural wealth may properly be estimated at $35,000,000,000. The value of our agricultural products now exceeds $9,000,000,000 annually.

"Because of its responsibilities and possibilities the country school should be our best school.

"The ideal rural school must become of such importance and be so conducted as to become the goal of the teacher's ambition and the pride of the country child.—H. L. Goll, The Agricultural Student, Ohio State University.

Great Is Alfalfa.

"For the third time," says the Nebraska Farmer, "a simple ration of corn and alfalfa hay has produced the cheapest gains in steer feeding experiments at the Nebraska Station. Twice out of the three times the steers fed corn and alfalfa made the best financial showing, and once a lot fed silage in addition to corn and alfalfa made the best financial showing, because the animals sold for a higher price on the market. In this whole series of experiment alfalfa hay has been more profitable than cottonseed meal to balance the ration.

Only a few weeks ago a hog feeding experiment was closed at the Nebraska station and it was announced that corn and alfalfa hay proved more profitable than corn and tankage. Great stuff is alfalfa. It pulls nitrogen out of the air and makes it into good protein to balance corn. And while it is doing that it fills the soil with organic matter and restores the nitrogen removed by grain crops. It grows early and late, whenever the sun shines and the subsoil contains water.

That a ration of corn and alfalfa hay in these steer feeding experiments has excelled rations of corn, corn silage and alfalfa hay does not disprove the value of silage in beef making. At most it raises a question in farm management. Unquestionably by the use of the silo more beef can be made to the acre, but the cost must be considered. That is something each farmer must work out for himself. The most profitable degree of intensity in farming must ever be determined by the relative costs of labor and land."

ILLINOIS CORN BREEDING

Important Facts Are Given by Head of Plant Breeding Department at the University of Illinois.

Some Recent Results From Illinois Corn Breeding Experiments.

(Dr. L. H. Smith, Professor of Plant Breeding, University of Illinois.

Probably to some readers of the Corn-Belter the work of the Illinois Experiment Station in improving corn along certain special lines is not entirely new, but to those who may not have kept in touch with the recent developments in these experiments a brief account of the latest results will doubtless be of some interest.

The oldest of these lines of investigations has now been in progress for the last eighteen years. This is probably the longest continued corn-breeding experiment in existence and systematic records run back unbroken to the beginning. The purpose of this study was to see what could be done to change the nature of ordinary corn by continuous selection, to modify the composition of the grain. Starting in 1896 with a common variety of white corn that contained 10.9 per cent protein, by continuous selection for a higher protein content in one strain, this constituent has been gradually increased so that last year, after eighteen years of breeding, the average protein content of the crop was 15.04 per cent.

Starting at the same time and selecting in like manner seed low in protein, a strain of opposite character has been produced in which the protein content of the crop was only 7.68 per cent. Thus we find that starting with a single variety it has been possible by selection of the seed to produce two very different kinds of corn, one of which is practically twice as rich in protein as the other. In other words, it would take two bushels of the low protein strain to furnish the same quantity of protein as is contained in one bushel of the high protein; or again, if we make the comparison with ordinary corn, it requires nearly 1½ bushels to furnish the same amount of protein as is contained in one bushel of the high-protein strain.

Even more striking results have been obtained in the breeding to modify the oil content. Starting with this same original variety, which contained at the beginning 4.7 per cent of oil, and selecting in one strain for high oil content and in another for low oil, the results of the analyses of last year's crop showed 8.29 per cent and 1.98 per cent of oil respectively. Thus it is seen that by simple continuous selection of seed with respect to oil content it has been possible to so change the variety of corn that two strains have been produced the one of which is now more than four times as rich in oil as the other. Reducing the terms of these data to common measurements, we see that one bushel of the high oil strain contains something over four pounds of oil, as compared with about one pound in the low oil strain; or again, one bushel of the high oil strain contains 1¾ pounds more than ordinary corn.

CHARGE THAT YOUNG WOMAN TOOK PURSE

In 'Squire Henderson's court Janie Johnson, colored, was arraigned on the charge of larceny and was bound over in the sum of $100. The complainants in the case are James Esmond and James Johnson. They maintain that they were walking on North West street Friday night when they were accosted by the colored woman and that a conference two or three minutes in length took place, during which she robbed Esmond of a pocketbook containing $14.75.

The loss was not discovered until the young men had walked several blocks further up West street and then the matter was reported to the police. John Starks, also colored, and a friend of the Johnson woman, is said to have endeavored to settle the trouble with Esmond and Johnson, and because of their refusal became abusive. On their complaint he was arrested for abusive language.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

PROSPECTS OF BETTER HARVEST WEATHER LOWER WHEAT PRICE

Quotations Close Heavy at 3 to 3¾ Cents Lower Than Previous Finish.

Chicago, June 14.—Prospects of better weather for the Kansas harvest and therefore a quicker movement of the new crop brought about a fall in the price of wheat today notwithstanding an upturn at the start. Quotations closed heavy 3c to 3¾c under Saturday night's level. Corn finished unchanged to ⅜c up, oats varying ⅝c off to ⅞@⅛c gain and provisions at 15c to 40c decline.

Professional speculators were conspicuous in free selling that began as soon as wheat was found to have only a scattered kind of support. Advices that rain delays to cutting in the southwest would probably not turn out so serious as at the opening of the session appeared most likely gave the bears a decided advantage. Besides cables bids to exporters on this side seemed to be entirely out of line regardless of early dispatches that told of an advance in the Liverpool market.

Some rallying power was shown by wheat when late in the day a falling off of 3,327,000 bushels was reported in the weekly total of the United States visible supply. The effect on traders though quickly disappeared and values in the end were within ⅛c of the lowest point of the session.

Corn advanced sharply owing to bullish crop conditions over the greater part of the belt. Later the weakness of wheat induced a good many holders to realize but the undertone of the market continued firm.

Oats were only partly sustained by word of good foreign demand at the seaboard. Spreaders buying July and selling September made the market very uneven.

USUAL LEADERS OF STOCKS DROP INTO BACKGROUND

United States Steel Supplies a Fair Share of the Day's Moderate Dealings.

New York, June 14.—Low priced specialties in which public notice has been directed were inactive today.

In fact with the exception of United States steel which supplied a fair share of the day's moderate dealings the usual leaders dropped into the background, the erstwhile war contract issues being relatively inactive and heavy.

Coppers were backward, despite reported sales of the refined metal at 20½ cents for domestic consumption with the new high price of 8 cents for lead.

Railroad stocks were variable when not heavy, Canadian Pacific again being under pressure on European sales. Reading, Lehigh Valley, New Central and Union Pacific fell a point or more under Saturday's close. American Can, which ranked next to steel in point of activity, sold at the new high record of 47⅝c.

Sharp recessions occurred in the last hour the more prominent stocks losing from 1 to 2 points on selling in fairly laige volume. The one exception was the so-called Virginia debt certificates, which rose from 53 its price earlier in the month to 71 on announcement that the United States supreme court had decided the long litigation between Virginia and West Virginia in favor of the former. The market was heavy at the close. Total sales amount to 671,000 shares.

Will Make Free Distribution of Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills

Our leading druggists have just completed arrangements with Professor Munyon to get his medicines direct from the laboratory so that there is no possibility of receiving stale or imitation goods. Besides, they have secured from him an agreement whereby he will refund the money in every instance where the remedies do not do all that he claims for them, thus protecting the people against loss or imposition.

He is especially desirous that every rheumatis, no matter how chronic the case may be, gets a 25c bottle of his Rheumatism Remedy. These little pellets as a rule limber up swollen and stiff joints and take away sharp shooting pains before one vial has been finished. Munyon's Rheumatism Remedy has probably cured more cases of rheumatism than any other remedy ever compounded. They cure quickly because they neutralize the uric acid and drive out all rheumatic poisons from the system. He asks every person who considers their case incurable to test this remedy and if they are not satisfied with the results their money will be refunded.

He also calls special attention to Munyon's Paw-Paw Laxative Pills that are proving to be such a wonderful friend to the liver, stomach and nerves. Paw-Paw Pills are unlike any other laxative. They stimulate the liver into activity, they strengthen weakened and debilitated stomachs, and they are almost an infallible cure for constipation. He wants every person that suffers with indigestion in any form and all those who are bilious, whose food sours on their stomach, who are distressed after eating, who are nervous and don't sleep, who are weak and despondent, to test these pills. In order that everybody may try them gefore buying he has sent to each of the druggists 200 packages to be given away absolutely free. If you have anything the matter with your liver, stomach, nerves or blood, step into any one of the drug stores named below and ask for a free package of Paw-Paw Pills. Remember that arrangements have been made whereby all of Munyon's Remedies are for sale at these stores, and that they are received fresh from the laboratory with all their curative qualities.

The following stores are carrying Munyon's goods:

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.
(By Associated Press)

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, May 11.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The romantic smuggler waiting for a dark night to run his lugger ashore in a cove and then bury his bales and barrels in the sand has disappeared, but the trade still flourishes and probably brings more profit than ever, especially just now in Holland. The modern smuggler here, however, is chiefly interested in getting contraband out of the country, rather than bringing it in.

A visitor to an up-to-date smuggler's den, of which a number exist in the center of Rotterdam, would probably find a middle-aged, clerkly German, dressed in a well-cut business suit, at a desk. In front of him small heaps of spices, grain of various species, oilcake and raw rubber and sample bottles of burning and lubricating oils. From time to time the smuggler chief takes the telephone receiver down, calls a number and bargains in terse phrases over the prices of job lots of the articles, samples of which lie before him, sent for his approval by merchants and dealers who held stocks more or less extensive before the new and strict government regulations calling for an inventory were issued.

Then follow other telephone calls on shippers and their skippers. The smuggler chief is trying to arrange for the transport of his illicit exports across the border line into Germany or Belgium. Freights for this trade are high and the smuggler's efforts are directed towards beating down the shipper to as low a figure as possible, but the shipper holds out, for he knows smuggled goods bring high rates when safely brought to their destination.

Torture would not force the smugglers to disclose the methods by which they manage to forward the contraband beyond the closely guarded frontier. It is hinted, however, that many railroad cars, ostensibly conveying freight from Holland to Denmark and from Denmark to Holland, are mysteriously uncoupled and disappear while passing over the intervening German territory. Dutch fishing boats, too, are often seized off the coast by German patrol boats and taken into German ports, whence they are released after their cargoes have been unloaded to the evident satisfaction of the skippers. Dozens of Rhine lighters pass daily up and down the river whose course runs through Germany and Holland, and occasionally one is held up because of the presence of illicit cargo, but it is possible that for each one stopped a number of others pass muster with forbidden goods on board and are received with welcome by the German authorities. From numerous points along the frontier, closely guarded though it is by Dutch troops, come reports of cattle and horses being driven across into German territory, where the lines of sentinels are thin or woods prevent a clear view.

The gains to be secured by the running of contraband are so tempting that the efforts of the authorities have been rendered futile. Practically half the Dutch troops now mobilized are engaged in guarding the frontiers, not against foreigners, but against Dutchmen trying to pass contraband. It is difficult, however, to guard every yard of the border line, and if the attention of a sentry can be distracted for only a few minutes this gives the wily smuggler his chance to get across with his goods.

The Dutch soldier, himself until recently a civilian, naturally dislikes shooting at his own countrymen, even when they are observed in the act of evading the law. The government has therefore been compelled to offer some inducement to augment his alertness in putting a stop to this profitable trade, whose success brings the government into many difficulties with the belligerent powers, who accuse the Dutch of acts not in accord with strict neutrality. A reward amounting to 10 per cent of the value of the goods seized in illegal transit is now offered to the soldiers, and this has had such effect on their watchfulness that captures of smugglers are becoming more frequently. On several occasions recently soldiers have shot and killed smugglers who have defied their summons to halt while engaged in contraband running. One soldier is reported to have received $400 as his share of the reward for stopping a large parcel of smuggled goods just as it was about to be taken across the border.

London, June 11.—W. R. Moore, head of the large gasoline engine manufacturing company, "Petters, Limited," has resigned from all connection with the firm because the directors voted to place their plant at the disposal of the government for the manufacture of munitions. Mr. Moore's letter of resignation says:

"Deep religious convictions will not allow me willingly to take part in the manufacture of munitions and I should not have become associated with the company had I thought that such a contingency would arise. As it has arisen, there is one course open to me, and I resign therefore my position as chairman and director of the company."

Cairo, June 11.—A Turk who had been treated to a coat of green paint so as not to be perceived in the tree where he had hidden himself, was brought down by a wounded Australian, who is now lying in a hospital here with a bullet through his ankle. The Turk was discovered only by chance, after he had made himself quite obnoxious as a sniper. According to the wounded man, the Turks are full of ruses many of them baffling to the British troops.

EAGLES SWAMPED DIVERNON IN SUNDAY'S BALL GAME

Home Team Clearly Outclassed Visitors at Every Point—Score 11 to 1.

Divernon was completely swamped by the Eagles at Nichols park Sunday. The final score was 11 to 1. The Eagles outclassed their opponents in every point of the game. They gave White excellent support and hit Rolfe hard all through the game. All the team played brilliantly but the work of Cap Denny at second base perhaps was the best of the locals work. Denny had eight chances without an error. He also got four hits and scored three runs. In the eighth he came clear from second home on Wheeler's sacrifice. Clark also was in good form and cut down two runners at second. Divernon has a reputation for taking chances on the bases but he had them hugging the bags closely when they did get on.

White pitched one of the best games of the season. He allowed Divernon six hits but no two came in the same inning. He walked one man and hit two. Rolfe was nicked by the locals for seventeen safeties. The locals beat out several safe bunts and in the fifth inning they stood the visitors on their heads with this work. For the visitors the work of D. Young behind the bat and O. Jones at short featured.

How the Runs Were Made.

The locals made one in the second. Clark first up singled to center and went on to second when C. Turley let the ball get away from him. Woodman and Christopher struck out. McCollister came through with single to center and Clark scored. Smith fanned.

Two came in the second. After White had flied to O. Jones Denny beat out an infield hit Wheeler singled advancing him to second. He engineered a double steal with Wheeler. DeFrates singled and Denny and Wheeler scored. Christopher flied to McTaggart.

The Eagles made three in the fifth by good batting and good base running. DeFrates was first up and singled. Clark bunted safely sending DeFrates to second. Christopher bunted and G. Young dropped the throw. DeFrates scored and Clark went to third. Woodman bunted and again G. Young muffed the throw and Clark scored. McCollister bunted and Christopher scored. The run getting was finally stopped by White striking out.

One came over in the sixth. Denny singled and went to third on Wheeler's safe bunt down the third base line. He scored while Wheeler was being run down between first and second.

Their last two runs came in the eighth, White singled. McCollister ran for him. He took second on Denny's single. Wheeler bunted and while he was being thrown out at first McCollister and Denny scored.

Divernon got men on base in every inning but the seventh but could not get them around. Their lone run came in the fifth when Wheeler threw G. Turley's bounder wide to McCollister alowing the runner to reach second. He scored on Sambo's single.

NEW LIGHTS BURNED FIRST TIME MONDAY

GREAT THRONG SAW BOULEVARD SYSTEM INAUGURATED.

Celebration of Event Made Part of the Observance for Flag Day—Speech Making in Central Park—Jeffries Band Gave Complimentary Concert.

If any one had any doubts about Jacksonville being progressive and enthusiastic those doubts would surely have been dispelled by the "welcome" given the new boulevard lights last night. The celebration was in honor of Flag Day as well as the lighting system and a great throng participated.

The Jeffries concert band proceeded to the Dunlap House where the G. A. R. veterans were gathered and were there joined by the other organizations and the line of march was formed. It was led by Thos. H. Buckthrope and Capt. John E. Wright in the following order.

Platoon of police.

Jeffries Concert band.

Modern Woodmen drill team commanded by Samuel Fernandes.

Co. B., under command of Capt. Percy Owen.

Veterans commanded by Benjamin Wood and carrying flags.

McCarty's Arabs.

Ladies of the Relief Corps in a large covered carryall.

Gave Drill Work.

Although rain was falling the sidewalks were thronged with an enthusiastic gathering of people who fully entered into the spirit of the occasion. To the stirring music of the band the procession marched to the square and down East State street to East street and countermarched to the southwest corner of the square. Just at 8 o'clock the lights were turned on and the people applauded and cheered.

A large area was roped off on the square and there McCarty's Arabs gave an exhibition drill and it was certainly fine. Many cheers greeted these capable young men.

Then came the Woodmen drill team and they too fully covered themselves with glory and were enthusiastically applauded.

At the close of the drills the ladies of the Women's Relief Corps came forward and saluted the flag while the band played "America" and then the band played the same air while the throng sang two stanzas of the national hymn.

C. of C. Officials Express Thanks.

All were then invited to the band stand in central park where John J. Reeve, president of the Chamber of Commerce presided. Calling the crowd to order he said in brief: "It is indeed with pride that we as citizens of Jacksonville may contemplate this occasion. We are proud that we have such an efficient chamber of commerce and such a capable secretary and public spirited citizens to contribute the funds necessary for this grand project. The Chamber of Commerce has been working at this project for more than a year and in spite of great obstacles the enterprise has been brought to a grand conclusion. The men who have contributed the funds, the Chamber of Commerce, the various organizations which have co-operated and the people who helped make the project a success all deserve thanks for all they have done for the betterment and uplift of Jacksonville. I now take pleasure in presenting to you the efficient secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Carl Weber, who did so grandly in raising the $6,000 necessary for this fine project."

Mr. Weber said substantially: "I desire to thank the business men who contributed so generously to this enterprise, the band and all who helped in this fine parade this evening. This is certainly a grand occasion for Jacksonville and we may all take an honest pride in what has been accomplished. I want to thank all the organizations that turned out tonight and helped make this occasion what it is. The business men of Jacksonville may always be depended on to stand up to the welfare and best interests of the place. In six days we raised the $6,000, and now we have still greater things in mind and hope to accomplish them."

Prof. J. H. Rayhill was then introduced and with a flag in his hand said: "This is the 138th anniversary of the adoption of our flag. It is said that Washington went to Betsy Ross and asked her if she could make a flag somewhat after the design he showed her and she said she thought she could but suggested a five pointed star instead of the six pointed one he had selected. He doubted if it could be made all right but with a few snips of the scissors she showed him that it could and so we have the one which has woved ever since."

In an eloquent manner Prof. Rayhill then recited a poem entitled "Old Glory" and it was well done. He waved the flag as he recited and the audience cheered him to the echo.

Mayor Rodgers Praised City.

President Reeve then thanked the Chamber of Commerce, merchants who had contributed so generously, the city officials and all who in any way helped make the affair a success. He then introduced Mayor Rodgers who said in brief: "I have lived in Jacksonville fifteen years and have watched its growth with the greatest interest. The people of Jacksonville have many just reasons for honest pride. It is the best city in the land for a home; our advantages and attractions are simply unsurpassed and we can offer the best of advantages and attractions to all who want to live in the best city in the world. The contributions by business men and people generally have been generous and now we all want to continue to work for the betterment of the city.

"Some have objected to placing the lights so much in the center of the city but that is the right place for them as the square and adjacent streets are the property of all the people. We also have another great and worthy institution, the Y. M. C. A., and we must not forget that either. The Jeffries band is a splendid organization and we must back it up and see that it gets the support it should have. It takes money to run a band and we have one that is superior and we want the concerts too and must have them and tonight I want to add my contribution of $25 for the purpose."

The band proceeded to favor the people with a number of selections and gave fine satisfaction.

Notes.

The inclement weather kept a number of organizations from joining the parade though as it was it was a great credit to all who did turn out.

The transformers for the electric lights failed to arrive and no amount of telephoning could locate them and get them here for the opening but W. B. Miser of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co., generously came to the rescue and permitted the white lights to be illuminated from the current supplied by the light company.

The work of installing the lights succesfully was done by G. A. Sieber. It is the expectation, as soon as possible, to extend the lights to the railroad on East State street and up West State street to Church and down that to the Wabash station.

CITY COUNCIL HELD USUAL MONDAY SESSION

Reports Presented Were Very Brief and Early Adjournment Followed.

The meeting of the city council Monday morning was brief indeed. Commissioner Cox reported that the petition for the walk on South Mauvaisterre street was signed mainly by persons who did not own property there and he therefore did not recommend favorable action. The commissioner thought that such petitions should represent the views of property owners rather than others. Mr. Cox also reported that a bridge across the Mauvaisterre on Vine street is in need of repair and the abutment will probably have to be reconstructed.

Commissioner Vasconcellos reported that the recent rains had resulted in a bountiful supply of water in the lake and had also occasioned some inconvenience at the north side station. He said that he did not believe it would be necessary to build concrete foundations around the casing for a sufficient height above the surface of the ground to prevent any further interference with the machinery from high water. This plan, he said, would result in less expenditure than placing a foundation under the entire walls of the well-houses.

Some other minor matters were discussed and then the council adjourned.

CLAIM AGAINST STRAWN ESTATE NOW BEING HEARD

John R. Robertson Seeking to Collect Sum Aggregating About $41,000—Borrowed Money and Services Rendered Form Claim Basis.

Hearing on the largest claim ever filed in the Morgan county court is now in progress before Judge Thomson. The suit involves the claim of John R. Robertson for $41,000 against the estate of the late Julius Strawn. This claim is based upon a check for $21,000 dated March 29, 1904, and upon a bill for services rendered during a period of years beginning Jan. 1, 1905.

Mr. Robertson's attorneys are Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty and Judge M. T. Layman; and Gates Strawn, executor of the Strawn estate, is represented by Kirby, Wilson & Brockhouse and Worthington, Reeve & Green. Considerable time in the morning was required for the selection of the jury, which includes J. E. Martin, Henry Frisch, Lee Woodall, George T. Lukeman, Lloyd Reynolds, James Montgomery, E. B. Wiswell, James Vail, George Franz, Charles Laney, J. W. Sargent and Ira Patterson.

A number of witnesses were placed upon the stand by the prosecution to prove that a great deal of Mr. Strawn's business was transacted through Mr. Robertson. Among the witnesses examined were A. A. Curry, W. B. Rogers, W. F. Wilmayer, Jerry Cox, C. R. Lewis and G. T. Wiswell. Mr. Robertson was on the stand for more than an hour before court adjourned and will conclude his testimony today.

Mr. Curry testified that he at one time rented a large tract of land belonging to Mr. Strawn and that he subsequently purchased the Rannells farm and that in both instances all the business relating to the matters was transacted through Mr. Robertson. W. B. Rogers and Jerry Cox testified that when they had served as assessors of the county that Mr. Strawn had referred them to Mr. Robertson for the listing of his taxable property.

C. R. Lewis as a witness told of making a large loan from Mr. Strawn at the time he and his associates purchased the Strawn lands and said that all the negotiations were made through Mr. Robertson. W. F. Widmayer told of settling business affairs he had with Mr. Strawn, through Mr. Robertson, and George T. Wiswell was placed on the stand to testify as to a fair payment for the services rendered by Mr. Robertson to Mr. Strawn.

As before indicated, the total claim is based on a check for $21,000 dated March 29, 1904, signed by Julius E. Strawn and payable to John R. Robertson, cashier. The words also appear, "With interest, E. S." and Mr. Robertson maintains that the entire amount is due him in addition to interest at the rate of 5 per cent. A claim for services is figured on the basis of $1000 a year from Jan. 1, 1905 to Dec. 1, 1913, with interest at 5 per cent. The testimony brought out indicated that Mr. Robertson had attended to business matters for Mr. Strawn through a long period of years and that while officers of the Jacksonville National bank they had personal relationships many times as borrower and lender.

In behalf of the estate John J. Reeve laid emphasis upon the fact that Mr. Robertson had borrowed money in varying sums a great many times from Mr. Strawn during the period on which the claim is based, and that a transaction of this kind occurred just a few weeks before Mr. Strawn's death. He maintained that it did not seem reasonable that when Mr. Robertson was borrowing large sums from Mr. Strawn that he would keep in his possession such a large check indicating Mr. Strawn's indebtedness to him.

There is little doubt but that the case will be appealed no matter what the decision of the lower court. W. E. Hall, stenographer in the office of Kirby, Wilson and Brockhouse, is taking a shorthand report of the proceedings. He has had a large amount of experience in court reporting work.

AN OLD TIME DOCUMENT.

William Bibb has left at the Journal office an old time tax receipt issued to Judge Edward Scott, Jan. 3, 1868, for taxes of the previous year. In those days city taxes were collected separately and were surely high enough. The writer well remembers hearing a very conscientious citizen who gave in all his property remark that Jacksonville taxes were equal to Turkish extortion.

Mr. Bibb was not aware where the property mentioned was located. One piece was 52 South Jacksonville and one was a lot in Wm. Thomas' addition to the city. At that time the residence of Judge Scott was on South Main street, south of the brook. The total value, personal and all, was mentioned at $4700, and the taxes, city alone, were $82.25.
